September 2018 -- Featured Manufacturer -- Lance Valves

M&M Distributes the Finest Names in the Industry!

Lance Valves: Industrial Valves | Automation Products

About Lance Valves: We are pleased to announce that Lance Valves is our newest addition to the fine lines we represent!

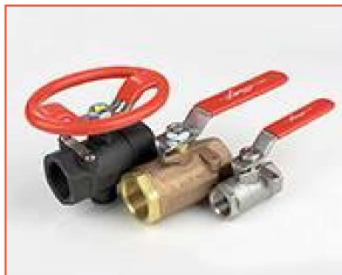

Lance Valves is an industry leader in Industrial Valves and Automation products. In business since 1972, the company has spent over 40 years building its reputation as a trusted resource for exceptionally made, dependable, and long lasting industrial valves. Lance Valves' commitment to quality starts in its Buffalo, NY area facility, where many of its valves are machined, assembled, and tested.

Lance Valves offers a selection of valves for nearly any application, with different materials, pressure ratings, and various options available. Automatic Drain Valves are an important safety feature for compressed air applications with downstream pneumatic equipment. Industrial Butterfly Valves come with a variety of seat, wafer, and lever options. Industrial Gate Valves are available with the materials, options, and flange dimensions you require.

Conventional shut off valves can trap compressed air in pneumatic equipment, which could create a potentially dangerous situation. Lance Safety Exhaust Automatic Drain Valves allow the down stream pressure to be released when the valve is in the closed, "off" position.

Lance Valves has the Industrial gate valve you need. Gate Valves are supplied with the materials, options, and flange dimensions you require.

Lance Valves offers a wide selection of industrial Ball Valves for just about any application, including brass, stainless steel, and carbon steel. Various pressure ratings and options are available.

M&M Control is a stocking distributor for Lance Valves. Call M&M today for help with your application at 1-800-876-0036.
